

IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

In re. Application of ) King, et al. )
USSN 07/110,791 )
Filed: October 21, 1989 ) Art Unit 183
For: A HUMAN GENE RELATED TO BUT ) DISTINCT FROM EGF RECEPTOR GENE) Ex. Marschel

7/18
NE
Washington
4-20-90
GROUP 3
PLT 4:30 PM
26
25
23
22
21
20
19
18
17
16
15
14
13
12
11
10
9
8
7
6
5
4
3
2
1

SUPPLEMENTAL AMENDMENT

Hon. Commissioner of Patents
and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

P#1315
duplicate

Sir:

Please add the following claims in the cited application for examination. An election has previously been made.

Claim 18. A vector containing a nucleic acid sequence of claim 16.

Claim 19. A vector of claim 18 which contains a gene or gene fragment comprising at least in part DNA sequence cloned in E. coli as in the ATCC deposition under the accession number 53408.

Claim 20. A vector of claim 18 which is a plasmid.

Claim 21. A composition of matter comprising a at least one nucleic acid defined by claim 16 in a carrier.